

SITE CH068R	YEAR 06	ROOM # or AREA NAME Courtyard	CONTEXT NUMBER 0882
TYPE (positive, negative, wall) positive	DEFINITION (cut in floor of X, fill of pit Y, north wall of room Z, etc.) Light gray ashy layer near wall course/hearth in Area 3, Courtyard
DESCRIPTION (include consistency, color, composition, inclusions, dimensions; for cuts, also include shape and orientation) Dimensions @ definition were \approx 50 cm (NW-SE) X 55 cm (NE-SW), but as we excavated to the NW we uncovered the several pieces of tile somewhat arched. This tile collapse (context 0915) extended under large 0882. Therefore, after we removed tile, the dimensions extended to \approx 1.1 M (NW-SE). The composition soil was light gray and ashy with an orange-ish yellow (2.5 YR olive yellow) ashy layer of the same consistency and composition under it. The entire context was no more than 8-10 cm in depth, becoming more thin as it moved away from wall course 0922.

STRATIGRAPHIC NOTES/DOUBTS (include any comments on methods, contamination, excavation conditions, or anything else that seems relevant) Context 0882 is likely associated with the concentration of large flat-lying tiles (0915) and the hearth because the light gray + orange-ish yellow were the same composition and consistency they were not recorded as separate contexts. Context is most thin under tile collapse.
