STRATIGRAPHIC NOTES/DOUBTS (Include any comments on methods, contamination, excavation conditions, or anything else that seems relevant) Context 525 is super strange and different from the other black ashy contexts that were located under Context 509. It is both deeper & less defined, it tends to drive in strange directions. Concentration of bones in the southern end (S/SE). Got less than half of the datable ceramics one from earlier period than the XIII century.
DATE 2-VIII-05		INITIALS SM

In retrospect, some of the artifacts removed as SR 525, were likely from context 563 (see sketch on back).
